

Mark Siegel presents...

A NEW VISUAL LITERACY

Transforming Your Classroom and
Library with Graphic Novels

Educators and librarians: Learn how to take your classroom instruction and library services up to the next level by effectively using graphic novels with children and teens.

Parents: Learn how graphic novels can get students excited about reading and improve key skills needed for school success.

Registration is recommended; register online through the Events page at columbuslibrary.org.

One contact hour CE credit is available for this free workshop.

Copies of Siegel's books will be available to purchase for the author to sign.
